Condition of Sculpture

Washington 14 July '83

Dear Sir:

We have observed the soiled condition of the Sculpture Hall, and Bronze Room, by reason of the filthy condition of the spittoons, soiling of the adjacent articles in using them, and the soiled condition of the floors and windows.

If it is Thomas' duty to keep these Halls in order, the work to be done during hours appropriated to it, they have been neglected and ought to have immediate attention; and, in the absence of Mr. Clark, the Com^{rs} on the Building call your attention to the matter with a view to have the halls put, and kept, in order.

Respectfully Yrs

Mr Macbride,

Will you please send by the bearer the easel used by Miss Byron in copying the winter scene by M. Gignoux It is a black walnut one almost new and one peg, also the shelf or rest which is in the little room where the paintings kept. My easel has a white cord at the back held by a gilt headed tack. I shall be much obliged. Yours &c. Kittie Gault.

I hope I will give you trouble in finding it; probably the young man who took care of the vases & placed them will remember it.

before the 15th of Aug

Wishes the position of his picture. ("The Pastoral Visit") changed

945 Penn. Avenue
July 23 1883

Directors Corcoran Gallery
Gentlemen;

I learn that some changes are contemplated in the arrangement of the paintings in the Corcoran Gallery, and in this connection I would request that my picture entitled "A Pastoral Visit" be accorded a place in the main hall.

While not asserting any right or control over a work no longer my property, I deem that I have sufficient ground to make such a request.

The lighting of the narrow galleries while entirely

Suitable for the majority of pictures, is entirely too vertical for one painted with as much texture as the Pastoral visit, bringing out all of the inequalities in such a way as to rob the picture of much of its finish, and thus doing me injustice -

The Pastoral visit is the only picture of any consequence recently purchased by the Gallery that has not been promptly transferred to the Main Hall, and I do not think I am saying too much when I aver that I believe it has earned a right to that honor as fully as any of them.

Hoping for a favorable response to this request. I am, ^{your} Very respectfully, Rich^d. M. Brooke.
